

Your child's screen time

Know the risks, and what you can do to keep your child safe.

What's the problem?

Spending time online and on devices can be a positive thing. But, high levels of screen time can put your child more at risk of:

- Being bullied online
 - Abuse and grooming (when someone builds a relationship with a child to exploit or abuse them)
 - Seeing inappropriate content
 - Not getting enough sleep and exercise

4 steps you can take to protect your child

1) Set parental controls on devices

Use parental controls to restrict access to in-app purchases and explicit or age-rated content, and, on some devices, how long they can spend on the device.

You'll likely need to set a password. Make sure it's different from the password used to access the device, and that your child doesn't know it.

Parental controls are usually located under 'Settings'. See below for more detailed instructions for different devices.

2) Agree rules on screen time

There are mixed views on 'safe' screen time, but you could agree some limits to stop screen time interfering with your child's sleep or family activities:

- Make a plan together, and stick to it. You could set media-free times and zones, like during meals or in bedrooms
- Try to avoid screens an hour before bedtime
- Model the behaviour you want to see – which may mean no screen time for you at the times agreed with your child. Children are more likely to learn from example
- Try to minimise snacking during screen time
- Turn not using screens into a game, using apps like Forest, where not using devices is rewarded

3) Talk to your child about staying safe online

Tell them:

- To be aware that anyone can pretend to be a child online
 - If they talk to people they don't know, not to give away personal information – like what street they live on or where they go to school, or to share their location with them. To say no to any requests they get for images or videos, and stop talking to the other person if they are asked for these things
 - To set their profiles to private, to limit what others can see

- To be 'share aware' – think carefully about what they share and with whom. Once it's out there, they've got no control over what the other person does with it. Remember, it's illegal to take, share or view sexual images of under-18s, full stop
- If they see something that upsets them, or someone bullies them, to tell an adult they trust

Don't feel confident starting a conversation with your child about what they're up to online? Read this advice from the NSPCC: <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/keeping-children-safe/online-safety/talking-child-online-safety/>

4) Encourage off-screen activities

Help your child get active for the recommended 60 minutes a day:

- See www.nhs.uk/change4life/activities for free ideas for activities and games
- Try an app that's designed to get children active – see the examples at www.internetmatters.org/resources/apps-guide/apps-to-help-kids-get-active/

How to set parental controls on your devices

Please note: when following the instructions below, the exact steps you need to take may be a little different depending on the device and software version you're using.

Microsoft devices (Windows computers and Xbox)

You'll need to have a family account set up, with 'child' profiles for your children. Learn more here: <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/12413>

You can't change existing adult accounts to child accounts.

If your child has an Xbox, you can also use the Xbox family settings app on your phone to set these controls: <https://www.xbox.com/en-GB/community/for-everyone/responsible-gaming>

Set screen time limits

- Go to family.microsoft.com and sign in to your Microsoft account, or use the Microsoft Family Safety app
- Find your child's name and select 'Screen time'
- Switch 'Use one schedule for all devices' to 'On' to use the same schedule for all devices. Or scroll down and switch on screen time for different devices individually if you want to have separate schedules

You can set time ranges for using devices, and how many hours per day, for each day.

Set age limits for apps, games and media

- Sign in to your Microsoft account, as above, and find your child's name
- Select 'Content filters'
- Go to 'Apps and games'
- Under 'Allow apps and games rated for', set the age limit for content they'll need permission to access

- To block specific sites, add the links to them under 'Blocked sites'

Manage purchases in the Microsoft Store

- Sign in to an adult account, as above, and find your child's name
- Click 'More options' > 'Spending'

Nintendo Switch

The Nintendo Switch Parental Controls smart device app is a free app which you can link with Nintendo Switch to easily monitor what and how your children are playing.

If you don't have a smartphone you can also set certain restrictions on Nintendo Switch directly. But it's best to use the app if possible as it gives you more choice in the controls you can set on your child's device.

To link your Nintendo Switch console to the Nintendo Switch Parental Controls application on your smart device, see the instructions here: <https://www.nintendo.co.uk/Support/Nintendo-Switch/How-to-Link-a-Nintendo-Switch-Console-to-the-Nintendo-Switch-Parental-Controls-App-1494767.html>

Set a parental controls PIN

- Launch the Nintendo Switch Parental Controls app on your iOS or Android device
- Select 'Console Settings' in the upper-right corner
- If you have more than one Nintendo Switch console linked to the app, tap the + icon in the upper-right corner to choose the correct system
- Select 'PIN'
- In the 'Change PIN' section, tap the 'New PIN' field

- Enter the new 4 to 8 digit PIN that you want to set, then tap the orange check mark on the screen to confirm

Set playtime limits

- Go to 'Console Settings', as above
- Select each setting you want to adjust, from playtime limit (a daily limit on the amount of time the console can be used), bedtime alarm (set gameplay to stop at a certain time each day), and suspend software (to stop the software on the console when the time limit is reached)
- Once you've got the settings the way you want them, tap the orange check mark to confirm

Set restriction levels

In 'Console Settings' (see above for how to get there), you can choose from preset restrictions by age, or select 'Custom Settings' to manually adjust the settings.

Tap the orange check mark to confirm the settings once you've got them the way you want them.

Manage purchase restrictions from Nintendo's eShop

You'll need to have a family group set up to do this, and have your child's account associated with yours. See more on how to do this here: <https://www.nintendo.co.uk/Support/Nintendo-Switch/How-to-Add-Members-to-a-Family-Group-1406409.html>

- Sign in to your existing parent or guardian Nintendo Account to access your Nintendo Account settings (on a Nintendo Switch console, or the Nintendo website)
- Click 'Family Group'
- Click the Nintendo Account for which you want to manage restrictions
- To restrict spending in Nintendo eShop, check the box to disable purchases and automatic renewal options on Nintendo eShop
- To restrict purchases on Nintendo eShop based on age, check 'Restrict'. This will automatically restrict content that appears in the eShop based on the player's age
- Click 'Save Changes' to confirm the change
