

Reading Spine – through writing lessons and whole class reading

Blue – read through writing lessons

Green – whole class story time

Our reading spine represents the books that children are exposed to through both our writing curriculum and in class stories. The reading spine showcases diverse authors and a range of texts and genres (including picture books and poetry). With skills-based reading lessons, the reading spine ensures that children still access quality texts, supported by their class teacher. Developing an enjoyment for reading is our priority, so there are also opportunities throughout the year for the class teacher to choose texts that their class may enjoy, alongside those in the reading spine.
